VOL. LX: N. 52 REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 26, 1921 ESTABLISHED 1859

GOOD PROGRAM FOR CHAUTAUQUA THIS YEAR

The local guarantors of the Ellison-White Chautauqua season are busily engaged in preparing for the Chautauqua week. An exceptionally fine program is to be presented and eevrything points to a successful session here. Under the terms of this year's contract 25 per cent of all oversales of season tickets and 25 per cent of all single admission receipts revert back to the guarantors. As this year's contract calls for the sale of but 440 season tickets as against 660 in former years there will probably be quite a neat sum returned to those who have made the Chautauqua possible here. It has been decided by the local guarantors that all moneys refunded under the above plan be equally divided between the local Boy Scouts' organization and the furnishing fund of the fire department. This proposition is already creating much enthusiasm for the Chautauqua and many new boosters are getting into line. A meeting of the guarantors will be held during the first week in April to make necessary arrangements and place the advertising material, which is already here. Early action is necessary, because Chautauqua week begins on April 30, one onth earlier then usual.

BIG CROWDS FROM THE NORTH ATTEND THE BLOSSON FESTIVAL

Last Sunday thousands from San Francisco and the bay counties attended the blossom festival at Saratoga. All the fruit trees were in full blossom. It was certainly a pretty and delightful sight. Owing to the abundance of rain this season the trees were at their best and put forth their sweetest and prettiest blossoms for the pleasure of the thousands who viewed them with keen appreciation. Sunday was, indeed, a record day for automobiles, the greatest number in the history of the peninsula passing down the highway. Traffic Officer James B. Logan says that 40,000 machines passed a given point on the state highway. This is the largest number on record.

Of this sum $6,000 is to be applied to the support of the incompetent and the balance is to be applied to a debt of $5,631.47, an amount adanced by Wideman for his ward during the past two years. The guardian's fees and minor expenses also are to be paid from the income over and above the $500 a month. There are no roads in the state that have so many machines on them. Yet there are very few accidents. This is due to the thorough manner in which they are patrolled. GREAT MOVING PICTURE STUDIOS WILL BE LOCATED IN REDWOOD CITY

Sketch of Life of the World's Greatest Moving Picture Producer---Self-Made Man.

Isadore Bernstein under long time contract to serve as general manager and director of production of Redbern Pictures Corporation, the motion picture institution locating in Redwood City, is one of the remarkable men of the industry and one of the outstanding successful creators and producers of moving pictures.

Born in the Ghetto of New York's east side Bernstein early became a newsboy through necessity and finally at 15 years of age entered the employ of the Christian Herald as a printer's deil resigning fourteen years later as associate editor to become superintendent of the boys' Institute founded by Jacob Schiff and others of New York. His association with this institution led to the motion picture with the idea of producing better and cleaner pictures than were being shown during the early days of the business.

ISADORE BERNSTEIN

He devoted his time from 1908 to 1911 in every department of the business including producing, distributing and exhibiting pictures in several theaters leased by him. In 1911 he became manager of the old Yankee Film Company, then manager of the Paramount Film exchange in New York, which led to his establishing the first chain of independent film exchanges.

In 1912 he accepted an offer of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company to take charge of its Pacific coast studios at Hollywood. This plant consisted then of a small stage 40 by 60 feet. In 1914 Bernstein conceived the idea of building the first great film manufacturing and producing plant in existence. The plan was carried out by the Universal placing over a million dollars at his disposal for this colossal experiment, but soon to become the greatest institution for producing pictures on earth and incidentally the largest income producer in the business, and so it remains today with millions now invested and where several thousand people find employment.

Thus Bernstein unquestionably holds the just reputation of being the outstanding pioneer in building up the great industry on the Pacific coast. It was he who first used the slogan "Made in Los Angeles" on motion pictures.

Under his management and as director of production the Universal grew from its original five small units with a pay roll of six thousand a week in 1912 to an organization of 24 units with a pay roll of $36,000 a week in 1915 and nearly $100,000 a week in 1920. During his regime at Universal Bernstein is claimed to have had charge of a greater number of producing companies turning out more pictures each week than anyone who has ever produced motion pictures.

Leavin gthe Universal in 1915 he became general manager of World Film Corporation, but returned to California after a year in the east to take complete charge of the National Film Corporation of America, making one of the most meteoric successes of that concern ever made in the industry. With three pictures made under his personal supervision in 1917, the National jumped from an unknown factor to the foremost independent film manufacturer; and these pictures, "Tarzan of the Apes," "The Romance of Tarzan" and "The Confession," proved the greatest drawing cards and money makers of the year 1917, whihc stands as one of the banner years of the motion picture business.

Mr. Bernstein returned as general manager of the Universal in 1920 and severed his connection early in 1921 to enter production of pictures with his own company which is the Redbern Pictures Corporation locating in Redwood City. People of this place will remember the last Bernstein picture made for the Universal being "Foolish Wives" partially made at Monterey, where this unusual character succeeded in prevailing on the "four hundred" of San Francisco and the peninsula to become "actresses' 'and "actors," lending the proper society atmosphere to the Monte Carlo set of the only million dollar picture ever made and which was suprvised by Isadore Bernstein, who announces that he has enough faith in the citizens of Redwood City and environs in backing his company, for the allotted quota to start building in Wellesley Park, that he will place his elegant home in Hollywood on the market with a view of buying a home in Redwood City, where he hopes to build up another Universal City or even greater institution and put this city on the map.

GREAT STUDIO FOR REDWOOD

Annonucement was made this week that Redwood City is to have the largest rental and producing studio in northern California with the advent of the organization of the Redbern Pictures Corporation by some of the most successful motion picture people together with local and San Francisco business men.

Organizers Sussesstul Producers

Investigation has shown that the general manager and director of production and others interested in the Redbern Corporation are numbered among the master producers and distributors of picture film of the world.

Great Benefit to Redwool

That Redwood is to have a substantial part in the third largest industry in America by the building of a great studio in Wellesley Park means more to every industry store shop and individual citizen than many other kinds of industries combined. This means that every citizen of this town is directly interested in the success of this new and potentially great institution and thus should lend every assistance possible help put over the small financial quota asked of Relwood City without any delay.

Every live business man knows that the motion picture industry, as started in 912 by Isadore Bernstein in Hollywood, has made Los Angeles the best known and fastest growing city on earth and the time has arrived when northern California ought to get behind the movement to establish a great portion of his fast growing business in and around San Francisco Bay, and nature gave Redwood City the necessary requisites which the movie man must have. Citizens of this section have only to help successful motion picture producers and at the same time help themselves to start this center of the greatest industry on the coast, because we have in and around Redwool City the five fundamental things needed—natural scenery, marine facilities, transportation, supplies and large numbers of people and San Francisco to give the cosmopolitan effect.

What the Movie Spends

The annual pay roll in Los Angeles county exceeds $60,000,000, with supplies totaling a greater sum. The business has spent over $200,000,000 in the same community in permanent investments. Over 40,000 people are constantly employed and the direct benefit through advertising "Made in Los Angeles," which is now possible as "Made in Redwood City," has an inestimable value, since pictures made in the southern section are viewed by more than 50,000,000 people throughout the world each week. To comprehend this feature alone is to readily understand what is making our southern neighbor the best known of any city on earth.

Increased Population

When Isadore Bernstein, general manager of Redbern Pictures Corporation, started to build a large studio in Hollywood, that town had less than 4,000 souls; today it numbers more than 50,000 and it is practically exclusively a movie city. Bernstein was the pioneer there. He built Universal City studios, the largest then and now. He was for for years general manager of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, bringing it from a small investment to the greatest film concern in the world, making millions for its stockholders and creating millions in investments. The same man has been in Redwood City for several days and believes he can build up another institution as great, if not greater, for this city. This would indeed be a tale from the "Arabian Nights," since our 4,500 people now would within nine years increase to over 50,000. And yet as success has a way of following success and the movie business has grown in twenty years from nothing to the third largest single industry in America, it seems only reasonable to expect that a man who has supervised the production of hundreds of successful motion pictures can repeat the same record in Redwood City.

Present Studio Plans

Redbern Pictures Corporation has asked the citizens through the help of its organizers, to subscribe for a limited amount of its preferred stock before going to the public generally, and to insure this plant, so ably managed, locating here. The first studio section will be of four producing unit capacity. The parent corporation will start production on a three-year program of valuable scenarios that are owned by it as quickly as this section of the plant is completed. The first cost of studio will not exceed $65000, with ultimate estimates of the plant of more than a million dollars. Administration and other buildings will not be required to start production of its own and three rental units, but will later be constructed.

The first four unit section should employ 400 people permanently located as residents of Redwood. The pay roll will be large, in fact exceeding $100,000 monthly, with a gradual increase as additions are built and a greater number of units are used.

Site Ideal

The site selected in Wellesley Park is one of the most beautiful locations in California. Mr. Bernstein expressed himself as highly pleased with the wonderful location and surrounding country generally as well as the city and the possibility of creating here another great studio and producing center.

2500 People Employed

When Mr. Bernstein severed his connection with Uniersal recently to enter the production of pictures by his own corporation the Universal was employing 2,500 people, not including extras and "mobs," and he does not hesitate to claim the same number of people as employees at the Redbern plant here in a comparatively short time.

Smallest Merchant Benefited

Since the motion picture business is a "business of a million businesses" every merchant and individual citizen must reap a generous benefit. It means the purchase of every kind or article of merchandise, demand for restaurants and hotels, necessity of a great number of permanent homes—infact on starting the first section twenty to thirty homes will be instantly needed increase in real estate and rental values and generally a rapid and sure demand for everything found in Redwood an dan increase in population, not alone directly by movie people, but through the fact that "Made in Redwood City" on pictures produced at the Redbern plant under a master builder of pictures, backed by many others internationally known in the business, going out to millions of people everywhere, means that this ideally located city, through this medium must eventually attract homeseekers from all parts of the world.

J. W. MUNDAY SELLS HOME IN REDWOOD HIGHLANDS

Mr. Pack, a retired merchant of Pittsburg, Pa., has bought the J. W. Munday home in Redwood Highlands and will occupy the place on July 1. The home is one of the show places of the city. Mr. Munday has purchased an acre of land near the San Carlos depot on which he is to erect at once a large building, the lower floor to be used as a general merchandise store by Mr. Munday and the upper story will be Mr. Munday's dwelling. The improvements contemplated by him will reach the $12,000 mark.

HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEES CHOSEN YESTERDAY

Thomas O. Heydenfeldt and D. E. O'Keefe were re-elected trustees of Sequoia Union High School at the election held in the district yesterday. Mr. Heydenfeldt has served on the board as a representative of Atherton for the past eight years. Mr. O'Keefe has served as secretary of the board for 18 years. He represents Menlo Park.

CITY TRUSTEES MET MONDAY

At the meeting of the city trustees Monday evening John W. Poole addressed the board in the matter of improving Jefferson avenue and Washington street and stated that all but five property owners had either paid or signified their willingness to pay for the proposed work. About 75 per cent of the money had been turned over to the treasurer and he thought that within a few days the entire amount would be collected. At a recent meeting of the board it was decided to improve the thoroughfares and advertise for bids, but a few of the property owners wanted to make the necessary improvements by private subscription, thereby eliminating the expense of alvertising. The board approved the plan and J. W. Poole and D. P. Flynn took the matter up with the taxpayers along these streets with the above results.

City Engineer Dimmitt submitted a report covering the cost of improving Jefferson avenue between the state highway and Adams street, a distance of one block. Three separate figures for different classes of construction were given, the costs in the three cases being $3,420, $4,900 and $5,200. The board, on motion of Trustees Tuchsen and McNulty, instructed the city clerk to send a copy of the report to each of the interested property owners and invite them to meet with the board at the next meeting to discuss the matter.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company asked permission to remove one electric pole and set another on the state highway. It was granted.

C. R. Curran asked the board to install a light on Claremont avenue in Wellesley Park. The matter was referred to C. L. Collins with instructions to report on the probable cost of the installation.

A petition signd by Fred Beck and others, asking that a light be installed on Hancock street at the corner of Willow, was presented. The matter was referred to C. L. Collins to report on the cost at the next meeting.

A dance permit was granted the U. A. O. D. for Saturday night, March 26, until 1 o'clock.

Frank S. Sears of Oakland, who owns a lot in the Highlands, complained to the board that the contractor who removed the oak trees from the streets in the park damaged his fence. The matter was referred to the street superintendent with instructions to repair the fence.

A master plumber's license was granted to Thomas C. Ruggles of San Carlos.

City Attorney Mansfield brought up the matter of a certified check for $75 which the Pioneer Rubber Company deposited when it entered into a contract to supply some fire hose to the city. There were some changes to be made in the couplings of the new hose and the board held the check until the hose was made to comply with the specifications. Mr. Mansfield explained that the price of hose had dropped and the city would be better off if the company did not fill its contract. The check was ordered returned to the company.

Trustee Ryan brought up the matter of reducing the price of water meters and connections. The present price for the meter and service is $20. The meter costs about $14. After some discussion the cost of the service and meter was reduced to $10.

Fred George ,representing the house committee of the firemen, appeared before the board and presented a set of house rules governing the use of the auditorium which he requested the board to approve. The hall may be used by patriotic organizations free, other organizations are required to pay a fee of $5. The hall being public property no charge will be allowed for refreshments. On motion the rules were adopted.

Mr. George requested the board to purchase an acid syphon for the fire house, the same to cost $9.50. The request was granted.

Sylester Douglass, day man at the fire house, suggested that the board plant a lawn in front of the fire fire house. He also asked for a concrete wash rack, 10x24 feet, to be located in the rear of the fire house, the saem to cost $76.80. Charles Cofiori agreed to put in the wash rack for the above figure. The board approved the planting of the lawn and also ordered the wash rack installed.

Owing to the fact that Trustee Kreiss is unable to attend the meetings regularly he being out of the city most of the time and therefore being unable to attend to the duties of some of the important committees of which he is a member, Chairman Ryan made several changes in the personnel of the standing committees.

Trustees H. C. Tuchsen, George E. McNulty and George Kreiss compose the public works committee. This is a very important committee, including all street work among its duties, and at this time when the Southern Pacific Company has closed two of the important streets of the city for an unreasonable length of time and the changing of the lighting and wiring systems on Main and Broadway streets, the committee will be kept busy.

City Engineer C. L. Dimmitt presented plans and specifications for the improvement of Steinberger street to the outfall sewer and pumping plant. The plans and specifications were accepted and City Clrk Price was instructed to advertise for bids to be opened on April 18.

The city engineer also submitted a report on the cost of installing a sewer system in Central Park. The cost was more than the board was able to handle at this time, but a request for water to supply J. C. Price on Lincoln avenue in the same addition was granted.

RELIEF FOR IRELAND WILL BE SENT FROM HERE

A meeting of citizens of Redwood City and vicinity was held on last Monday evening in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of co-operating in the drive now on to give immediate relief to the hunger stricken people of Ireland. J. Harold Caulfield of San Francisco addressed those present, after which it was decided to call a mass meeting for Tuesday evening, March 29, at the civic auditorium, to perfect organization and get down to action in the raising of funds for this most worthy cause.

The food situation is more acute in Ireland than we who enjoy three meals a day can appreciate. The industries in Ireland are paralyzed 47 co-operative creameries having been burned likewise bakeries and factories. This deplorable condition is the result of "reprisals" and with the crops destroyed the inhabitants are facing starvation.

We who so laudably furnished food and clothing to the stricken Belgians and Armenians will again show our magnanimity by helping to alleviate the existing distress in Ireland. Lend your sanction to the moement by being present at the Redwood City auditorium next Tuesday evening March 29, at 8 o'clock.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rice spent Tuesday at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco as the guests of old friends from Mr. Rice's home town in Iowa. While there they occupied the adjoining table to that of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks. Our friend Clark says that Mary looks better on the stage than she does off of it. Incidentally we might remark that Mr. Rice is still receiving the congratulations of his friends for having won the prize as the best dancer of the Odd Fellows of San Mateo county.

Robert Silva a well known farmer of San Gregorio was in Redwood City Tuesday greeting friends. Mr. Silva is the owner of the 180-acre tract near Bellvale where a San Francisco oil company is now boring for oil. A well was struck on this land twenty years ago but as it yielded only two barrels a day it was abandoned. C. H. Hubbard now has a crew of five men at work cleaning out the old well and expects to have other wells producing their oil flood in a short time. We may expect to see our friend Mr. Silva a very rich man in the near future.

WILLIAM H. CROCKER WILL VISIT EUROPE

William H. Crocker, the noted financier, philanthropist and national Republican committeeman from California, sailed for Europe on Thursday for a much needed rest and recreation. He will view the battlefields of France and other places before returning to California. Mr. Crocker is one of San Mateo county's well known philanthropists. His beautiful home at Hillsborough is always open to those in need. No one goes away from it empty handed. It would be well for the country that we had more wealthy men like Mr. Crocker, who is ever ready to share his money with poor and lowly. His numerous friends on the peninsula wish him a pleasant trip and a safe return to his beloved California.

EMBARGO ON LEMONS

Possibility of relief to the lemon of California is indicated in an appeal made Monday at Washington to President Harding by Senator Samuel M. Shortridge. The California senator urged on the president the necessity for placing an embargo on lemons and hops. Lemons are being dumped on the market, according to Mr. Shortridge, at a dollar a case less than the price for which they can be put on the cars in California, a condition that spells ruin for California growers unless action is taken to secure a recovery of the market.

Senator Shortridge is right in demanding immediate prohibition of the importation of lemons into this country on the ground that with exchange rates in their present condition nothing short of that will save the lemon growers from ruin. Mr. Shortridge in his campaign last fall promised the lemon growers of the south that if elected he would protect them from the cheap labor product of Sicily. He promised them a stiff tariff on lemons. But by the advices from Washington it would appear that he is going his southern constituents one better by using his best efforts in prohibiting lemons from entering this country. Mr. Shortridge is keeping his pledgese to the people.

The lemon industry of this state represents large investments and the employment of a great many people. It has grown up in a legitimate way under normal conditions, which were assumed to be permanent. It has had no protection by tariff, as the duty of one-half cent a pound was a light revenut tariff. It has fought its way against rail transportation greatly in excess of cost of sea transportation from Italy and now greatly increased while ships coming from Italy will accept any rate which will attract a cargo, and it is alleged that in some cases lemons have been brought in free as ballast.

It is useless to disguise or ignore the fact that while the exchange and freight situations remain as they are the lemon growers have no hcance unless importation of lemons is temporarily prohibited.

INJUSTICE CORRECTED

The Times-Gazette wishes to correct the erroneous impression about the Redbern Pictures Corporation, in hat the original idea was for the Chamber of Commerce to officially secure subscriptions to $50,000 for the new picture concern; and the committee appointed to act upon the matter decided that it was not the proper time for the Chamber of Commerce to assume an obligation of this nature.

Individually encouragement has been extended and the help of every citizen is solicited in assisting the organizers in filling the subscription quota for the Redbern Pictures Corporation so work can start and the proposition be well on its way backed by the people of this community, that the motion picture business will benefit Redwood City, almost beyond the most fancied idea of the ultra optomistic goes without saying, and that the institution now seeking the aid of this community is backed by responsible motion picture people of the very highest order, as to experience and success, is a established fact—the proof of which seems beyond preadventure of a doubt. It then remains but for the people of Redwood City to get behind the deal in the same way San Mateo and Burlingame got behind the institution which has made good in that section, just as this one for Redwood City can make good with like support.

DEATH OF CARDINAL GIBBONS

In the passing of Cardinal Gibbons the Catholic church has lost one of its great dignitaries and the United States one of its best citizens. His influence for good and for morals has been felt in this country for a half century. The great churchan wielded a vast influence with the American people. He was a great American. His recent work in the world war is too well known to be recounted here. Not only was Cardinal Gibbons held in high esteem by the Catholic church but he was also recognized as a great spiritual leader by all classes and all creeds. Cardinal Gibbons' great work will live after him. Today millions are mourning his loss. In his death the country loses a great and good man.

SALARY INCREASE WARRANTED

The Advance is not generally in favor of increased salaries for public officials, believing that they are pretty well paid in view of the high cost of government. We have, however, one exception to make in our opinion on the subject, and that is in reference to the county superintendent of schools of this county. The present superintendent, Mr. Roy Cloud, receives $2,700 a year, and his friends are appealing to the Legislature to raise this salary to a sum commensurate with the duties and the salary paid other school men. Mr. Cloud has served in school work for many years and while the commercial world would offer him more, he would be compelled to forsake his chosen profession to secure it. The dignity of his position and the character of the work will not permit him to increase his emolument by work in any other line. In brief, he cannot get outside his sphere and must get along on what he gets. Many public officials who have made no preparation for the jobs they hold receive much more for their services. That may not be an argument for a raise in the superintendent's salary for the other public officials sometimes receive too much, but it is at least a comparison and it is by comparison that all wages or salaries are fixed, or at least should be.

There is a rapidly growing demand for a decrease in public expenditure, but to refuse to pay a proper salary to the few public officials that are underpaid on that ground would not be fair nor would it prevent economy in the right places where a svaing worth while could be made.—Burlingame Advance.

ATTEMPT AT CHECKMATE

Before the war the United States enjoyed direct cable communication with China by way of Yap. That privilege is now denied by Japan in her position as mandate over the island. It requires no very astute mind to perceive the interests of Japan in the matter. Her policy for years has been to exploit China for her own aggrandizement. The United States, on the other hand, has been the benevolent of China. Hence anything that embarrasses America in her communications with China, and leaves Japan free to pursue her course towards that country is very much according to the wishes of the Japs. Japan has no special interest in Yap except as it enables her to put a stumbling block in the relations of the United States and China.

NO NEED TO WORRY

Frank H. Simonds advances the theory that Germany is trying to promote her own ends by creating bad feeling between the United States and Great Britain. No need to worry. The people of the United States, and their representaties at Washington, both legislative and executive have intelligence enough fully to understand the obligations, the rights and the intesests of the United States and to look after those rights and interests and fulfill the obligations without yielding to any influence whatever from Germany or elsewhere The present administration is purely an American administration and will commit no act that needlessly offends Great Britain nor will it supinely acquiesce in the commission of acts by Great Britain that are offensive to us. We are still maintaining that separate and equal station among the nations of the earth earned for us by the blood and sacrifice of heroic forefathers, who, wisely, also established a policy of non-interference with the internal affairs of Europe.

THE IRISH REPUBLIC

It is a far cry back to the time when we were a weak colonial people huddled along the Atlantic coast, scarcely able to support our existence, and a prey to hostile devastations. The Pilgrim fathers had a long and bitter struggle to make their colony a going concern on the bleak New England coast, and on several occasions they had to appeal for help to outside sources. In 1631 they were faced with famine, but a shipload of food, sent from Ireland, saved the day. Again in 1676 the colonists were in dire straits. King Philip's Narragansett Indians had ravaged the settlements and the resources of the colonists seemed near an end. In this emergency also the people of Ireland came to the rescue and a shipload of food was sent, which was known in New England annals as "The Irish Donation."

Today the American people have the opportunity to repay this generosity. Hunger and misery are gripping the Irish people. In the long-continued disturbances over there the whole economic life of the country has become dislocated, unemployment is widespread, and thousands of people are homeless and facing starvation.

The representative American who have formed the American Committee for Relief in Ireland have performed a timely and humane service. Relief will be administered on a strictly non-political, non-sectarian basis—the condition on which "The Irish Donation" was sent in 1676.

The desperate plight of Ireland's women and children will be brought to the personal attention of every man and woman in Northern California during an intensive three-day drive for funds to be forwarded to the Quaker relief workers now in Ireland, according to a decision today of the campaign committee which has undertaken to raise $150,000 as Northern California's share of the national fund of $10,400,000.

The non-political, non-sectarian nature of the drive was emphasized in acceptance of the post of Northern California campaign director by Harry R. Bogart, former manager of the Associated Charities, and Red Cross campaign manager.

"This drive is purely for funds to aid destitute women and children", declared Bogart. "We are assured that every single dollar raised is to be spent for direct relief. The committee in charge of this work is made up of all nationalities and religious beliefs."

William H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast League, has accepted the chairmanship of the San Francisco committee.

Endorsement of the fund by Herbert Hoover, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and other men of national prominence was followed today by a telegram from William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury and Director General of Railroads, as follows:

"I place my services unreservedly at the disposal of the committee.

"America has made noble response to the cause of suffering humanity in every land in Europe, and she will not fail to succor suffering Ireland, whose people are our kin and need our help in their extremity. America cannot resist the cry of the destitute and distressed women and children in Ireland."

BE ON GUARD

In the controversy between railroad employers and employees, which threatens to consume weeks or months before a settlement is finally arrived at, the public should be on its guard against the wiles of the government-ownership fanatics. Despite the tremendous improvement in transportation that has marked the return to control of the private owners of the roads, those men are unwilling to admit that Federal control was extravagant or inefficient. They seize upon every pretext to impress their arguments anew upon the people, and a disturbance in the railroad would like the present one over wages gives the government-ownership agitators just the opportunity they want to start talking again.

There are certain faults in the railroad situation that must be corrected, either by legislation or otherwise, before efficient transportation at a minimum of cost will be realized. It was freely admitted by the authors of the Transportation Act of last year that the law was not perfect, and that doubtless amendment to it would have to be made as occasion required. The insterstate commerce experts of the Senate and House are making an intensive study of the whole situation, and will report to Congress during the special session the necessary steps to take to correct matters. The country may rest secure in leaving the question to those men for solution. Of one thing they may be sure, that bad off as the roads are today they do not approach the chaotic condition in which they were during the two years of government operation. A return to that system would be a decided change for the worse.

LATE MRS. ABBY PAYSON PROMINENT SOCIETY LEADER

Mrs. Abby Josephine Payson, who passed away at the Red Cross hospital in an Mateo on March 12, was a member of the pioneer Parrott family of San Mateo and was a woman of the highest ideals. Though surrounded by wealth and affluence she did not forget the poor and lowly. She was charitable to a marked degree, her alms giving were unostentatious. None but those to whom she gave knew her many acts of kindness. The death of women like Mrs. Payson are always a loss to their communities. Few women in the state were more esteemed than Mrs. Payson and none will be more widely mourned.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM COURT HOUSE

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, there being present Dr. C. V. Thompson, presiding, T. L. Hickey, Mrs. Rosalis M. Brown, John MacBain and Manuel Francis.

A communication was receiced from Miss Mabel Weed, county agent for the state board of charities and corrections, telling of a recent visit to the detention home, the county jail and the clinic at Redwood City and congratulating the board upon the excellent management of these institutions. The board also congratulated the supervisors upon the development of better facilities for children's work in the county.

A communication was received from Dr. E. Tate Thompson director of the bureau of tuberculosis of the state board of health, in which the writer urged the supervisors to take a stand against the proposed cutting down of the annual budget of the bureau of tuberculosis from $600,000 to $300,000.

On motion of Supervisors Hickey and MacBain, Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to write to Senator M. B. Johnson and Assemblyman Frank Eksward, urging the San Mateo representatives to vote against any reduction in the budget.

A communication was received from the Southern Pacific Company, enclosing a bill in the sum of $12.74, alleged to be due from the county for freight charges on a carload of rock shipped from Saratoga to the fourth township to the Ocean Shore railroad in 1918. The company said there was an error in figuring the rate to be charged for the shipment. The communication was referred to the county purchasing agent to look up the old claims coering the transaction.

A communication was received from the Cypress Lawn Cemetery Association complaining about the offensive odors from the Colma creek on account of the hog ranches in the vicinity and also complaining that the flower vendors in front of the cemetery were causing a nuisance by throwing old papers over the lawns of the cemeteries and by some of the vendors having dogs around their flower stands.

The matter relative to the hog ranches was ordered referred to the county health officer while Supervisor Hickey, in whose district the cemeteries are located, agreed to take care of the other complaints.

A communication was received from the state railroad commission, notifying the board of a hearing in San Francisco on March 29 at 10 a. m., in the matter of the application of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for permission to continue the surcharge of 15 cents at present applicable on its electric rates.

On motion of Supervisor MacBain, seconded by Supervisor Hickey, a certified check for $2,500, which had been deposited by the Bear Gulch Water Company last fall, at the time of beginning excavations and laying of water mains i the vicinity of Menlo Park, third township, was ordered returned.

County Purchasing Agent Ernest Werder addressed the board relative to the need of Traffic Officer J. B. Logan either having his motorcycle repaired or a new one purchased. Werder stated that the machine was in very bad condition and that from estimates he had secured it would cost over $100 to repair it. He said a new machine would cost $544 and the company had offered to allow $350 on the old motorcycle, making the new machine cost only $195.55.

On motion of Supervisor Hickey seconded by Supervisor MacBain, the purchasing agent was ordered to turn in the old machine in the purchase of a new one.

On motion of Supervisor Brown seconded by Supervisor Francis, Louis Barish of San Mateo was granted a license to peddle general merchandise in the county, his application having been held up for several meetings in order to get a legal opinion from District Attorney Swart as to whether the applicant was entitled to more than one license at a time, he alrealy having a permit to peddle junk in the county.

County Engineer George A. Kneese presented specifications for resurfacing the La Honda road from township bridge to San Gregorio. The specifications were adopted, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Francis, and Mrs. Nash, the clerk of the boarl, was directed to advertise for bids for the work, the bids to be opened on Monday, April 11.

Supervisor Francis addressed the board and asked the members and County Surveyor Kneese to visit the fourth township and inspect some washouts at the bridge near Patroni's place. The board selected Monday the 28th, as the time for making the visit, when inspection will also be made of the entire coast side road, a request that this be done haviny been made by Chairman Thompson.

The board ordered the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company to discontinue the county telephone that has been used at the home of Matt Grady, former sealer of weights and measures at Colma, on April 1 and install a phone at the home of Edward J. Ford, the new sealer, at Daly City.

OLD ESTATE DISTRIBUTED

The estate of Michael Callan, deceased, was settled and distributed in the superior court by Judge Buck on Thursday. The estate has been pending in the probate court for many years and owing to family disagreements could not be distributed until this week although Judge Buck has often urged its settlement.

Callan was one of the pioneer hog raisers of Colma.

SEEING GOOD IN OTHERS

A truth that everybody should observe as he progresses through this uncertain world is that there is good in everyone; that no man lives who has not in his nature somewhere some good, and it is the duty of everybody to find that out the first thing; and very often he will find that the good is the major part of the man's makeup. To discover the good qualities of another is not only a service to that other but to oneself also.

Indeed a man who will not see any good in others is himself a mean man. His heart is cold and his brain is scant. But if he sees whatever worth there is in others, his sympathies enlarge and his views broaden. There is the great good in seeing good in others—it makes a man of one and lifts him above the sordid levels of life.

If we wanted to test the manliness of a man, we would get his opinion of his neighbors. If there was one of them in whom he saw no good we would mark him down. We would hardly expect him to see the same good in all, but if he would analyze his observations closely and seek an equilibrium of conditions he would find no serious difference among them; no so much difference as to raise a feeling of more dislike than friendliness.

SOME OTHER TIME

"Some other time, I'm busy now," I said,
And saw him go, with sad, uncertain tread,
His broken trinkets dangling by his side;
"Some other time!" His little plea denied,
His little lingering figure in the door,
And then a shadow, and the world once more,
And strife and conflict and the sea of care
That hid from me my whimpering baby there!

"Some other time, I'm busy now!" He went,
With child lips puckered and his fair head bent,
A crystal teardrop trembling from his eye
And in his throat a sob, his breast a sigh;
The broken engine trailing after him
Into the shadows that his grief made dim;
I coud not stop, I thought, so let him go,
He'll soon forget and soon put off his woe!

Some other time— and now he never comes,
No broken trinkets and no battered drums,
No unkept promise and no chance to say:
"I'm busy now, run out a while and play!"
Some other time—and I am waiting, dear,
For little footsteps that I'll never hear,
And little lips that never more will be
In childhood love held up like blooms to me!

Some other time—and here I sit and dream
Of golden childhood with its eyes a-gleam,
Rushing for help and comfort, as he came
To me that day, with all his heart aflame—
While care-bowed fathers cry, as I cried then:
"Don't bother me, I'm busy, come again,"
And watch them fading in the enfolding gloom
Where faltering footsteps lead them from the room!

Ah, bring them now, dear son, those toys or thine,
Unto these idle, trembling hands of mine—
The little barrow, with its broken wheel,
The shattered engine and the battered reel,
The burst spring, the top that will not run,
The leaking sailboat and the twisted gun—
I shall find time to mend them as I said,
For all my need of worrying now hath fled!

Some other time—and now 'tis I that go
With head averted and sad tread and slow,
Calling the little shadow here and there,
Through empty hallway, up the hollow stair,
Down the long path that follows through the bloom
Unto the hillside with its marble tomb;
Some other time—O darling, all the years
My idle heart now waits amid the tears!

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Fred Stewart and Rose Bacon, both of Menlo Park, were married in Hollister on Monday.

The inmates of the Base hospital have started a movement to have a postoffice established at the institution. A lengthy petition has been forwarded to Senator Samuel M. Shortridge and Senator Hiram Johnson to use their efforts in securing it. Mail is now being sent to the hospital three times a day from Palo Alto. It comes irregularly and is inconvenient for the inmates to get their mail in that way thay would much rather have their own postoffice. The postoffice authorities at Washington will no doubt grant the request.

Sometime during Saturday night the Club Garage on the State highway at Menlo Park was entered and a Ford coupe belonging to C. C. Peters was stolen. The parties responsible cut a hole in the glass and opened the door, making away with the coupe and leaving tires and accessories of all kinds untouched. Parties living next to the garage state that they heard someone trying to start a car on the highway about 2 o'clock Sunday morning and it is supposed that this was the thief. The machine was found Monday morning in a demolished condition.

Mrs. M. I. Frederick and young son will leave on April first to be the house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Guy Manson for two months. Mrs. Manson is a sister of Mrs. Frederick and was formerly Miss Jean Bruce of Menlo Park.

Frank Derry and Henry Faber have been chosen as delegates to the annual convention of the Grand Parlor of Native Sons to be held at Stockton on April 18. The will represent Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W.

Letters have been received here by friends of Father Thomas Ryan, formerly assistant pastor of the Church of the Nativity, from his home in Ireland. He left San Francisco a short time ago to visit his boyhood home in Ireland. Father Ryan is the popular assistant at St. Bridgid's church in San Francisco

Arthur Thompson, the local tonsorial artist, has leased the Brown place on Roble avenue for a period of three years. The place was formerly owned by Fred Seale.

Eight new cottages are soon to be constructed at Stanford Park by a wealthy Palo Alto man. They will be for rent.

The rain fall for the season to date has been 17.20 inches, nearly four inches more than normal.

The attendance at the Irish concert in the Hall of the Nativity on Wednesday evening was a record breaker. It was the largest gathering ever witnessed in the hall. Probably more than a hundred persons failed to gain admittance. There were fully 500 in the big audience. The program was all that could be expected. Father Boyle ,the noted tenor singer, sweetly sang, "Mother Machree," "The Croppy Boy" and "Tumble Down Shack in Athlone." Noel Sullivan sang "The Coulin," "The Lark in Clear Air" and "Bendemeer's Stream." His rich bass voice was a treat to music lovers. "Barney O'Hea," "Wearin' of the Green," by Helen Moore was well applauded. Uda Waldrop's piano playing was marvelous. The Irish dancing of the Hannigan children brought down the house. They made a decided hit with their cleverly executed reels and other dances. The orator of the evening, Thomas L. Lennon, telephoned earlier in the morning that he could not come so Father Coughlan, professor of English at St. Patrick's seminary, was pressed into service. He delivered a very clever oration on the Irish question saying among other things that America should at once recognize the Irish Republic in order to stop the flow of blood in Ireland. His remarks were heartily applauded.

RUNNYMEDE ITEMS

Thirty thousand strawberry plants arrived here Wednesday from Watsonville, 15,000 for Mr. Rosenfeld residing on Santa Cruz avenue and the other 15,000 for Mr. Entente of Stanford Park. With the large acreage in berries in and around Menlo Park this season the price of the fruit should be within the reach of evry-

Several informal entertainmens were given Miss Mary Elena Macondray before her marriage to Herman Phleger on April 2. Owing to the recent death of Mr. Macondray the wedding will be a quiet one at their home in Menlo Park. A luncheon was given by Mrs. Alvah Kaime on Thursday—in honor of Miss Macondray, the guests being Mrs. Winthrop Austin, Mrs. Howard Park, Mrs. Elmer Jennings, and the Misses Macondray, Amanda McNear and Betty Folger. Miss Helen Pierce will entertain Miss Macondray at luncheon on March 28 at the Town and Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Latham McMullin will spend the month of April in Honolulu. The McMullins are to spend the summer in Menlo Park.

Late Saturday evening last Mrs. Margaret Carolan, a pioneer woman of this community and widow of the late Patrick Carolan, passed peacefully to the great beyond at her home at Atherton, after a lingering illness of over a year. The deceased was a native of County Meath, Ireland, and was 74 years of age. The funeral took place from the Church of the Nativity on Tuesday morning. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery, Menlo Park. Mrs. Carolan was a kind, Christian woman, devoted to her family and friends. Those who knew her intimately loved her most for her sincerity of purpose and true and loyal friendship. As a young woman she came with her husband to the Stanford ranch, then owned by the late Mr. Hoag, in the very early seventies. Her husband was the superintendent of the farm on which is now located Stanford University. Thehouse the young couple occupies was only a short time vacated by Mr. and Mrs. F. Kerrigan, parents of Judge Kerrigan. The judge spent his childhood years there. Some years afterward Mr. and Mrs. Carolan moved to Menlo Park, Mr. Carolan becoming connected with the James Flood place, where he remained until his retirement. Some years ago the family bought an attractie home at Atherton, where they have resided since. A large number of sorrowing relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting place. The following old time acquaintances acted as pallbearers: J. H. O'Keefe, David Roche, M. F. Duff, James Hardgrove, J. Higgins and John O'Farrell. Mrs. Carolan is survived by three daughters, Mrs. W. E. Evans of Santa Rosa, Miss Catherine and Miss Jane Carolan.

The Native Daughters are preparing for a card party to be given in Native Sons' Hall on March 30 for the benefit of the homeless children. Good prizes will be awarded the winners. Those desiring an enjoyable evening will secure a ticket early and thus avoid the rush.

A barrel of choice whiskey, the genuine "stuff" arrived at the Wells Fargo office here during the week for the base hospital to be used there for medicinal purposes. As the barrel stood on the platform before its removal many shy glances were cast at it by the thirsty. It awakened pleasant memories of bygone days.

A large dormitory is soon to be erected at St. Patrick's Seminary. Plans are out and active work is to commence very soon. Other improvements are to be inaugurated also at the institution for the accommodation of the increasing attendance. Next semester there will be over a hundred new students. The foundations are laid for the new college at Los Altos and work on the building proper is to commence on August 1 next. It is hoped that it will be in readiness for classes in September of 1922.

The Runnymede colony is entering its fifth year with a settlement of 200 families occupying 600 acres on which is represented an investment of $1,252,850. The laying hens on the poultry farms there number 168,850 and the poultry houses, if ranged in a line, would reach for seven miles. The egg industry in California has made such strides in the past four years that the state in that time has grown from an egg importing region to one which now exports 600 carloads of eggs to the east. Runnymede is a contributor to that growth.

William Warren, headmaster of the William Warren School for Boys at Menlo Park, is at Ojai, Santa Barbara county, this week, attending a conference of boarding school heads, at which he is to giev a talk on athletics, sports and keeping boys. He is the guest of Sherman Thatcher of Thatcher School.

Masses will be celebrated in the Church of the atity tomorrow at 6:30, 8 and 10:30 o'clock. The last will be a high mass. An augmented choir is to furnish the music.

E. J. Crane received a notice from the postoffice department at Washington yesterday to the effect that the local rural route has been extended to the territory including North Fair Oaks. The first delivery of mail is to be made on April 1. The people of that section are delighted to learn of the good news, for it means a great deal to them.

NOTED ARTISTS EXHIBIT AT STANFORD UNIVERSITY

A prominent collection of oil paintings by noted American artists is on view at the Thomas Welton Stanford Art Gallery at Stanford University during the month of March. This collection is composed of thirty-four paintings and includes the work of such men as Birge Harrison, Robert Henri, Jonas Lie, Gardner Symonds, Frederick Frieseke and others.

George Bellows is represented by a wharf scene typically painted in his free rendering. Bellows, among the younger American artists has created a prominent position for himself. Another of the younger artists is Robert Henri who has a splendid portrait on the wall of a young, Spanish girl entitled "The Spanish Dancer." Another portrait painted with vigor and broad strokes but each stroke with meaning is that of "Margaret" by Louis Betts.

Emil Carlsen, formerly a California man, known prominently for his fine still-lifes is represented by a painting of a marine, which, however, does not equal his still-life work.

Frank Du Mond, the instructor at the Art Students' League, has a picture in his fascinating style and color entitled "Fairy Fold." 'Winter Moonrise" by Birge Harrison will be of interest to those who have read his book on "Composition." The picture "Winter Moonshine" is a dark, blue-purple winter nocture and the distance is finely painted.

Jonas Lie has a village street scene, "Gossip," showing a scene in a hillside town with a group of quaint houses, from the window of one of which may be seen a figuer gossiping with a group on the sidewalk.

Portraiture is represented by "Marion of Hewn Oaks" by Douglas Volk. a "Young Girl" by Mrs. John C. Johansen, "Young Women Knitting" by Charles Curran, "By the Door" by Ivan Olinsky and also large portraits by Louis Betts and the "Spanish Dancer" by Henri. A painting of a woman with a bouquet by Frieseke is probably the most interesting portrait to artists and art lovers as Frieseke is the winner of the 1915 Exposition Gold Medal for painting.

The whole group represents the finest collection of American paintings to reach the Pacific coast since the 1915 Exposition. They are on view from 10 until 5 o'clock every day of the week and no admission charge is made. The Art Gallery is near the new Stanford Library and is easily reached from the carline.

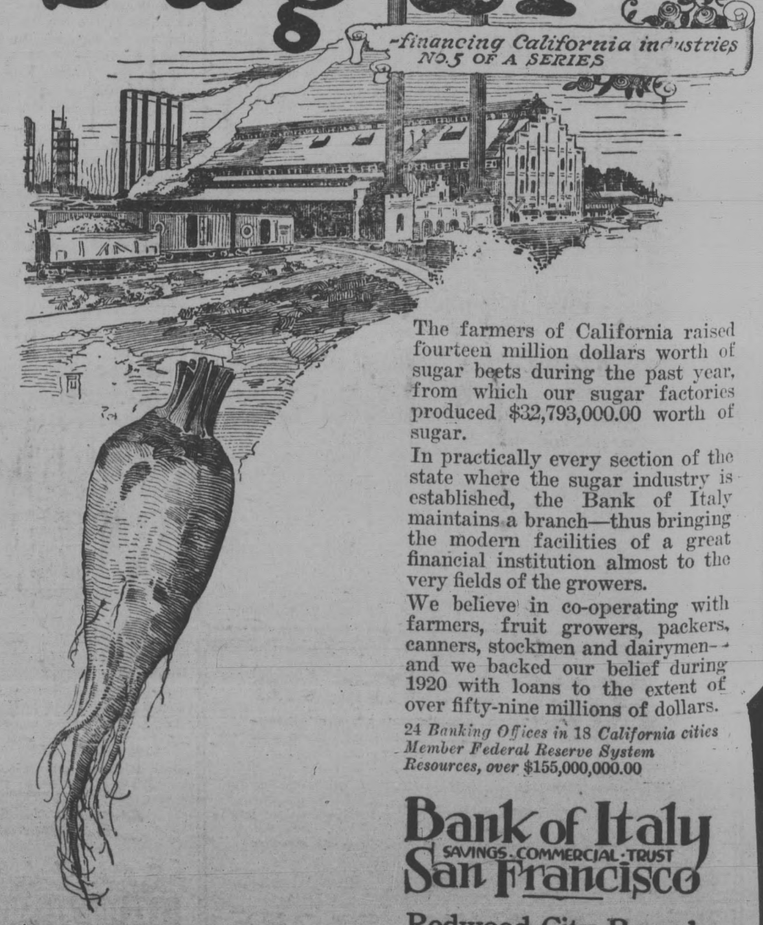
Sugar

-financing California industries
NO.5 OF A SERIES



The farmers of California raised fourteen million dollars worth of sugar beets during the past year, from which our sugar factories produced $32,793,000.00 worth of sugar.

In practically every section of the state where the sugar industry is established, the Bank of Italy maintains a branch—thus bringing the modern facilities of a great financial institution almost to the very fields of the growers.

We believe in co-operating with farmers, fruit growers, packers, canners, stockmen and dairymen—and we backed our belief during 1920 with loans to the extent of over fifty-nine millions of dollars.
